A long cheer went up with the flag that was holsted as a signal that the ground was formally opened. Mr. Charles II. Cooke spoke briefly, and Mr. Thoutzahn also had a few words to say to the children. Captain Carlton McCarthy caught the young people at once. He expressed his hearty approval of the worls, and declared that there would have to be other and larger playgrounds. He indicated several things that must be done, and that, he said, he would lend his best endeavors as Mayor toward securing.

All of these things Captain McCarthy said would pay not alone in sentiment and grafification, but in money—everybody would be happier. He declared his and gradication, but in money—every-body would be happier. He declared his motto: "The child is king; long live the king!" And his text Isiah xili:12, "I will make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man, than the fine gold of Ophir."

Conferences Yesterday.

At noon yesterday Mr. Routzahn held a conference at the Chamber of Commerce with a number of the real estate men of the city. The talk was an informal, but practical and helpful one in which the business men appeared much interested. The outcome of this conference is expected to be the appointment of a committee on the organization of an exchange, of real estate men, contractors, architects and others

Unprecedented JuneBargain Selling.

For some reason or other, maybe because of greater variety this season or because of deeper inroads into certain particular styles, we find more broken size scales than ordinary at this stage of the season. Such conditions demand strenuous measures, as the progressive policy here in control prohibits accumulations of broken lines under any circumstances. In order to meet the issue and to dispose of these broken lines as quickly as possible, we have applied the never-failing remedy-PRICE REDUCTION-and to such an extent has this been carried that the actual cost of production has been surpassed.
